Good Morning Mark,

As we embark on a new school year, I wanted to touch base with you regarding my requested accommodations. Since the beginning of this year, the district has failed on several occasions to honor and provide accommodations as has been requested and discussed. In fact, one such instance involves forms (emergency medical and staff directory) that I will need provided consistent with my accommodations. Furthermore, as I reflect back on the time since our last meeting regarding my accommodations, I have documented approx. 18 occasions when the district has failed to honor and provide accommodations that were requested and discussed. So I wanted to touch base and find out if you think we need to schedule a meeting again to review my accommodations?

Thank you,
